MR. CLYNES.

Mr. Clynes said that, with regard to the Irish Butter Regulation, he could well understand that, in the opinion of many people, this regulation was regarded as unnecessary. But this regulation was not made until representations had been received from Ireland that that country was being depleted of butter supplies, and it was in the interest of an equitable share of the available butter that this regulation should be made, that supplies so far as they were necessary in Ireland should be retained there, and that such surplus as could be spared should be brought over to England under the certificates and regulations that had been laid down. With reference to the larger question—the Irish cattle situation—he could assure Mr. O'Connor that he should despair of any arrangement being entered into between the food Ministry and others concerned if the could Ministry wand others concerned if the MR. A DISABLED SOLDIER'S PROTEST.

Dublin, February 5th, 1918. THE PRICE OF SUGAR.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sin,—If those who are in communication with the Food Controller can obtain from him a procouncement as to prices of sugars and retail under the card system for Ireland, to begin meat mouth, they will confer a public boon. I pay at present 7d, per lb. for sugar, and see nothing to prevent the grocer with whom I have registered from charging me 8d. or 9d. when I pasen my card, as be will then have me at his mercy. The Northern Police Court magistrate stated that prices of 64d. and 7d. for sugars (presumably brown and white) were a penny too much; yet these are the prices charged by many grocers. A *egulation on the subject would be received with gratitude, by everybody.—Yours, etc., "HOUSERGLERE." THE PRICE OF SUGAR.

which is designed to overcome the difficulty of adjusting a veil properly. A recent publication says of it: "The proper adjustment of a veil is an art in which few excel, but the 'Fitwell' veil has the happy knack of adjusting itself."

The veil is so shaped—as the illustrations show—that it has merely to be tied on; nothing more is needed. We are sure that the utility of this new departure will commend it to our many friends.

"Fitwell" is a silk veil, and will fit any hat. It is sto ked in the following urs—ivory, champagne, grey, nigger, wine, purple, flesh, black. Saxe, mole, Price 1/111 each
